Rowan Class News

In Science, we have been learning how to make electrical circuits. So, we used those skills to design and make an electrical circuit to light up a Christmas decoration. All the components needed had to be small and light weight, and we needed to be able to switch it on and off. We practiced making circuits with these components with a learning partner before we created our own designs. We used our Design & Technology skills to investigate, plan, make, break, rethink until we could get our lights to light up time and time again. Here are a few of our proud projects!

Our Christmas tree is up and our post-box at the ready and we have been enjoying Matt Haig's books 'A Boy Called Christmas' in Guided Reading and 'Father Christmas and Me' as our class reader. We are really enjoying these stories!

We are thrilled to announce that works to install the new playground equipment will commence next week. During this time a large part of the playground will be cordoned off. Please can we ask that you do not let your children near that area, especially after school, and we do ask that parents leave the playground promptly at the end of the school day. We are hoping that the works will be completed by 12th January, but it is dependent on the weather!
